CAPSULE BIOGRAPHY

Pasha L. Hsieh (謝笠天) is the Lee Kong Chian Professor of Law and Jean Monnet Chair at the Singapore Management University (SMU) Yong Pung How School of Law, where he previously served as Associate Dean for Faculty Matters and Research. He is also the Head of the United Nations University Hub on Green and Digital Regionalism at SMU. He has held visiting faculty and fellowship positions at the University of Melbourne, Seoul National University, and National Taiwan University. He received his J.D. and LL.M. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and holds a Ph.D. in Political Science from the Free University of Brussels. Prior to academia, he was a Legal Affairs Officer at the WTO Appellate Body Secretariat in Geneva and an associate at Shearman & Sterling LLP in Washington, D.C.

Hsieh's research focuses on international economic law and public international law, with particular emphasis on regionalism, recognition theory, and the transformation of global governance. His first monograph, New Asian Regionalism in International Economic Law, was published by Cambridge University Press and has been translated into Chinese and Japanese. His second monograph, Beyond Non-Recognition: Taiwan, the Indo-Pacific, and Global Trade Regimes, is under contract with Cambridge University Press. He also co-edited ASEAN Law in the New Regional Economic Order: Global Trends and Shifting Paradigms. His scholarly work has appeared in the Leiden Journal of International Law, the Journal of International Economic Law, the World Trade Review, the ICSID Review, and international law journals of Cornell, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Northwestern universities, as well as peer-reviewed political science journals. The Federal Supreme Court of Switzerland, the United Nations ESCAP, and the OECD have cited his work. His publications have also been included in syllabi for international law and international relations courses at universities including the Australian National University, NYU, Cambridge, and Oxford.

Hsieh has been invited to present on trade and sustainability issues by the European Parliament, the Korea National Diplomatic Academy, the ASEAN Secretariat, and the Singapore Judicial College. Recently elected to the Executive Council of the American Society of International Law, he now serves on the 2027 Annual Meeting Committee and previously co-chaired the Asia-Pacific Interest Group. He currently serves on the editorial board of the Journal of International Economic Law and is a panel member of the Hong Kong Research Grants Council. He also served two terms on the Executive Council of the Society of International Economic Law and was a member of the International Law Association's Committee on Recognition/Non-Recognition in International Law. In addition to receiving SMU's Most Outstanding Legal Studies Teacher Award, the Lee Kong Chian Fellowship, and the Yong Pung How Fellowship, he has secured research grants from the European Commission, the Korea Foundation, the Sumitomo Foundation of Japan, and the Ministries of Education of Singapore and Taiwan.
